REPORT

“POST PANDEMIC REJUVENATION OF HIGHER EDUCATION: A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE”

5TH June 2020

One Day International Web Conference Post Pandemic Rejuvenation of Higher Education: A Global Perspective” was held on Friday, 5th June 2020 during the lockdown phase that has emerged due to COVID 19 outbreak. The conference was a joint venture of the cluster of Departments of English (CELL) and PDEA's B. G College, Sangvi, Pune. It was a maiden attempt of organizing the international event virtually along with the “ten different colleges” involved in the cluster, in and around Pune city. The unexpected challenge of post pandemic rejuvenation of higher education had to be discussed on a platform of a web conference because face to face interaction was not possible while maintaining social distance. The conference was a huge success as two hundred fifty participants registered and took active part in it. The selection of the theme itself is a need of the hour on which papers were invited from all the stake holders, the experts, teachers, research scholars and students. We were fortunate to have renowned resource persons from the U.S.A., Europe and India. The challenges in the field of humanities, trade and commerce and science were discussed with probable solutions. We have selected papers that have been contributed by the teachers from all branches of knowledge. The issue serves as a reliable resource to policy makers, researchers, academicians, administrators, medics, and technicians. The publication of this special issue proved another major landmark in the history of CELL. The special issue of ninety three papers was published online in peer reviewed, impact factor journal LangLit. We received papers of the academicians from abroad and from all parts of India as well.

We decided to invite distinguished scholars from diverse fields as the resource persons. Especially, the Indians, who have made their mark in the West as brilliant scholars were invited. Prof. Madhuri Deshmukh from Oakton Community college, America delivered a speech on ‘eco-poetry after pandemic’. Prof. Shushmana Kannan, Saint Diago University, America spoke on ‘ancient literature and pandemic’. Prof. Hari Sharma, VU University, Amsterdam, the Netherlands, spoke on the aftermaths of COVID 19. Prof. Abbas Mehdi, the former VC of two well-known universities of India, spoke about the mission undertaken by ICMR during and after COVID 19. It was really an intellectual treat to all the participants. Prof. Sanjeev Sonawane, Dean, Interdisciplinary Studies, SPPU, Pune delivered a key note address and Prof. Anjali Kurane, Dean, Humanities, delivered valedictory address. Thus the web conference was a maiden attempt of the department and a major step towards ‘live local, act global’.
